Honorable C.J. Chasco has been married to her husband Michael for 21 years and they have four children: one son and three daughters. Having grown up in Swisher County, C.J. and her husband loved their small town so much they chose to stay there and raise their family. Her son works for TXDOT. The twins, the oldest daughters, are both attending college, one of which will graduate this May. C.J.’s youngest daughter will start high school this fall and C.J. admits most of her time outside of work will consist of chasing her daughter around the panhandle juggling sports, theatre, and a variety of extracurricular activities. “We love the craziness and we will take in every second of the next four years before we become empty nesters,” says C.J. Any chance she has free time, C.J. loves to escape to the lake or travel somewhere new and spend time with family. “If it’s a nice evening, you will find us outside playing games and cooking out. I also love crafting in my spare time and it has become a hobby I share with my three daughters,” she says.

C.J. enjoys her job as clerk. She loves history and the people. “I am always learning something new. I love the challenges and enjoy looking for the best solutions to better serve the residents of Swisher County,” says C.J.

Being nominated as Clerk of the Year is a humbling experience for C.J. “It is an honor to represent my region as District Clerk of the Year and to stand beside so many deserving clerks who work tirelessly for the association,” says C.J.
